

F-SPRAY 232

Chain Lube Food Grade

F-SPRAY 232 is a food grade lubricant with a wide application area, where extreme water resistance is of importance. Excellent for chains in chain lifts. F-SPRAY 232 withstands aggressive environments and supplies a strong lubrication film with high shear stability. F-SPRAY 232 is based on high quality synthetic base oils and spear-point technology thickeners, giving excellent stability to remain in place even after heavy cleaning and use of strong detergents. The lubricating film is thick and very adhesive to metal surfaces. Also suitable for applications with elevated temperatures.
